Dear Sir,

I should be grateful if you could convey to the Military Authorities who kindly offered the protection of the workmen picking oranges on 16-18 April, 1948, my deepest thanks and gratitude for the tiresome task which they undertook.

Their kind help has enabled me to fulfil my obligations for supplying oranges to U.K. and the British Ministry of Food.

Your kind help and the excellent cooperation of the Army will always remind me of the high spirit of order which the British soldier stands for.

Yours' Sincerely
